At the end of a year which saw accidents and hatred the cause of several national tragedies . . . which was characterized by discontent and criticism . . . we dedicate this book to happiness . . . the happiness that comes from knowing that life does have meaning . . . the happiness we found during the school year . . . the happiness we share with our friends . . . the happiness we wish our graduating seniors as they move into a new phase of their life . . . the happiness we, as maturing women, wish to carry with us to all whom we serve.
